Just like each star is unique yet makes the universe what it is,
the light in you makes you who you are.
That's exactly who you need to be.

Set goals and let your efforts be recognized!

Thank you!
